Never Before Were Local Hibernians in Such Splendid Condition.

Reports Read at County Convention Aroused Greatest Enthusiasm.

Able and Energetic Young Men Elected to Serve Two Years.

KIND WORDS FOR P. T. SULLIVAN

The most enthusiastic gathering of delegates to attend a county convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in the city of Louisville since the foundation of that organization here twenty-eight years ago was that which assembled at Hibernian Hall last Sunday afternoon. President Patrick Sullivan called the meeting to order, which was opened by prayer. All the county officers were in attendance, and among the visitors were State President Thomas Keenan, James Rogers, ex-State President Martin Cusick, ex-State Secretary James Coleman and Messrs. Thomas Dolan, Patrick Liston, Lawrence Mackey, Will Connelly, Patrick Begley and others who had been high in the councils of the order.

The first business was the appointment of a committee on Credentials. President Sullivan naming Messrs. John P. Mellon, George J. Butler, Patrick Welsh, John Keane and Owen Keenan. After a short recess this committee reported twenty-four delegates present and entitled to vote and voice in the convention. County President Sullivan then read his address, which was in part as follows:

"Brothers of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, two years ago you honored me by electing me County President by a unanimous vote. I promised when elected that I would do all in my power to build up the order, but could do nothing without your assistance. I then stated I would know no division in my official capacity, that all would be treated alike by me. How well I have kept that promise I leave to your judgment to decide."

Here followed statistics showing the numerical standing of each of the four divisions, the net increase in membership being 141. Divisions 3 and 4 gaining the largest numbers. "Brothers, I wish to thank the members of the County Board for their kind support in every undertaking we had during the past two years, and I hope my successor will receive the same kind and considerate treatment that was accorded myself while presiding. This body has important work before it, and it is my earnest wish that the convention give due consideration to all matters that may come before it. We should always keep before us the motto of our order, 'Friendship, unity and Christian charity.' Let us consider every measure that comes before this convention in a cool and deliberate manner and use our best efforts for the greatest good of the order. In my official capacity I have written nearly one hundred communications. I succeeded in having the members attend holy communion in a body at St. Patrick's with the announcement from the altar, and I feel grateful to the pastor, Very Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., for his kind words on that occasion. I wish to thank you once more for your kindness during my term, and hope that my successor will receive the same generous treatment that I have at all times enjoyed at your hands."

The address was well received and evoked generous applause. The list of committees was then read as follows:

Rules—Joseph Conney, Joseph Dougherty, John J. Sullivan, Thomas Lynch, Joseph Lynch.

Finance—Michael Tynan, Con J. Ford, Thomas Quinn, John Hennessey, John Mulloy.

Revision—Joseph P. McGinn, Patrick Welsh, Peter Cusick, Con Ford and John Hennessey.

Resolutions—Edward Keiran, Thomas Callahan, D. J. Coleman, Thomas Keenan, Jr., Will E. Burns.

Upon motion the convention adjourned to give the committees time to consider the matters placed before them and prepare their reports. After reassembling the first business was the calling of committees. The first read was that of the Rules Committee, which recommended that the rules governing the last convention be adopted, and this was concurred in.

Next came the Finance Committee, who reported through Chairman Mike Tynan that the books and accounts of Treasurer John J. Sullivan were found absolutely correct and kept in a business-like manner, with a nice sum remaining after all expenses were paid. This committee recommended the election of a Financial Secretary, there now being two accounts to keep, that of the Hall Board requiring special attention. The recommendation was concurred in by unanimous vote.

The Committee on Resolutions, composed of the young men of the order, brought forward the most important business of the convention. Their report recommended the indorsement of the house proposed by the national body for aged and infirm Hibernians; the teaching of Irish history in the parochial schools;

THOMAS QUINN.
New County President, Ancient Order of Hibernians.

JOHN M. MULLOY.
New County Treasurer, Ancient Order of Hibernians.

VISITOR FROM IRELAND.

Guest of Rev. Father Thomas White at St. Frances Rectory.

Edward White, a prominent and influential resident of the County Wicklow, Ireland, is in the city the guest of his brother, Rev. Thomas White, the beloved and popular pastor of St. Frances of Rome church in Clifton. Wicklow is renowned in song and story for its wondrously beautiful scenery, and the ancestral home of the distinguished visitor is within a hundred yards of the noted Vale of Avoca, which inspired Tom Moore's everlasting "Meeting of the Waters."

Mr. White spent several days at Bowling Green with Rev. Thomas Hayes, whom he met several years ago when the latter visited the Emerald Isle. He expressed himself well pleased with Kentucky and his reception here, and his visit may be prolonged for several weeks. All who have met him have been delighted with his personality and pronounce him a true type of the real Irish gentleman.

FRED LEEZER BUSY.

Has Begun Work on New Buildings at Nazareth Academy.

Fred Leezer, the well known and successful building contractor, who has just finished the erection of Mackin Council's $10,000 club house, has begun work on the new buildings to be added to Nazareth Academy. There are two, the larger of which will be the main school building and the other the kitchen. Over a million bricks will be used in their construction and the work will not be completed before next May. The Sisters of Nazareth will then have the largest and most commodious female educational institution in this section of the country.

Mr. Leezer is now finishing the erection of the mammoth cold storage plant and ice factory of the Merchant's Refrigerator Company on East Main street, between Brook and Floyd. This contract alone required 2,500,000 bricks and has furnished employment for a large force of men during the summer. Mr. Leezer bids fair to take the place of Fred Hoetz as Louisville's biggest contractor.

COVINGTON.

What a Big Hibernian Has to Say of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

(Special Correspondence of the Kentucky Irish American.)

COVINGTON, Oct. 5.—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians have held their election of officers and to say that it was sprightly is putting it mildly. The electioneering of some of the ladies was remarkable and would make some of our politicians take to tall timber. They all send their kindest regards to the ladies of Louisville and "more" than that to the men. I suppose they would term it "love," but as I am a married man—well, nuff sed. Anyway, tell the boys to keep their promises and write, for if they don't I will have to get a Louisville directory to furnish the information asked of me. Following is the list of officers the ladies elected:

County President—Miss Hannah Murray.
President—Miss Mollie Cushing.
Vice President—Mrs. Kate Finnegan.
Recording Secretary—Miss Lula Murray.
Financial Secretary—Miss Nellie Moran.
Treasurer—Mrs. Ellen O'Connor.
Sergeant-at-Arms—Miss Mary Murray.
Sentinel—Miss Mae Egan.

With best wishes to all our brothers in Louisville and success and thanks to the Kentucky Irish American for its kind praise and many notices of the Covington convention, I am, yours fraternally,
J. M. H.

FATHER GILBERT BETTER.

The Rev. Father Gilbert, of St. Joseph's church, who has been very sick, was able to be up and about again this week, to the great relief of the entire parish, to every one of whom he has endeared himself.

MEMORIAL

Services For Late Judge Muir Held at First Joint Session.

Eloquent and Feeling Tribute Paid Dead Jurist by Judge O'Doherty.

Bench and Bar of Kentucky Lost One of Its Shining Lights.

FUTURE WAS ONE OF GREAT PROMISE

The memorial services of the Louisville Bar Association for the late and lamented Judge Upton W. Muir were held Saturday at the first joint session of the Jefferson Circuit Court, and every lawyer of prominence was there as a mark of respect. The addresses were delivered by Judge Gordon, Judge O'Doherty and others and all were expressive of grief over the loss the bench and bar had sustained. The address of Judge O'Doherty, who succeeded Judge Muir, was one of the most brilliant yet feeling efforts ever heard in the Court House. The sentiments expressed were of a Christian and liberal spirit that commend themselves to all, and will be appreciated by none more than the readers of this paper. Judge O'Doherty said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen: I can not allow this occasion to pass without adding my humble tribute to the more worthy ones, which have already been paid to the memory of our departed friend. The office which we are here to discharge is, indeed, a sad one. I am confident that there is not in this meeting a man to whom the news of Judge Muir's death did not bring a pang of keenest sorrow. He was, I may say it without the slightest exaggeration, the idol of both bench and bar in the courts of this county. He had not only the unbounded respect and confidence of his associates, but, better still, their love. He was fortunate in possessing in a marked degree those virtues which not only command respect but inspire affection. Of him, indeed, it may truly be said that "to know him was to love him."

He possessed a mind made radiant by the ascendancy of virtue, grace and genius. Without pride, without affectation, he was yet bold and independent in thought and action. As incapable of intellectual anarchy as of intellectual slavishness; with no more respect for hoary absurdity than for novel imbecility, however ostentatiously presented or gaudily labeled; with all the true lawyer's reverence for authority, for time tested principles and rules of human conduct, yet never allowing the reverence to degenerate into blind unreasoning worship or into fatal forgetfulness of the fact that, though the principles of the law are immutable, the science by which those principles are to be applied to the ever changing and complex relations of men is progressive, he appeared to be wholly unconscious of the natural superiority of his genius. Herein lay one of the greatest charms of his character. It saved him from that taint of self-sufficiency which has prevented many a great lawyer from becoming a good judge. He had the judicial temperament, as it is called, in all its fullness. He seemed to realize in a marked degree the dangers which attend a judge who enters upon the hearing of an argument with a dogmatic conviction in his own mind that he understands either the law or the facts of the case more fully than the lawyers who have prepared it. He was courteous, cautious and painstaking, yet bold, fearless and firm in the discharge of his duties. He not only promised to be, and this would have been almost enough to have looked for in one of his comparative youth, but he was in fact an ideal judge. He had that innate love of justice which is the first requisite of a great lawyer. Injustice, moral deformity, was offensive in his sight. His refined perceptions, heightened and intensified by the love of the beautiful and the true, enabled him to penetrate almost at a glance any mask it might wear. He stood laurel crowned, as it were, at the entrance of the temple of fame which opened wide its portals before him. Yet great as were his achievements, they were but the pledge of promise of what might be expected from him in later years, when the autumn of life would have mellowed and ripened to their fullest perfection the rich fruit of his fertile mind. As a citizen he was justly esteemed and honored by all—as a son, husband and father he reached the full measure of the Christian gentleman that he was. I do not know that he held or claimed membership in any Christian body or denomination, but I do know that he had a profound respect for all things sacred; that he had a deep religious nature and was far, far removed from the ranks of the scoffers. His amazingly sudden and unlooked-for death is another and sad reminder, if one be needed, of "the shadows that we are and the shadows we pursue." With good reason does one of the greatest philosophers-poets of our language exclaim:

"Tell me, some godly guardian angel tell What thus infatuates? What enchants
ment plants

JUDGE MATT O'DOHERTY.

Delivered Great Address at Bar Association Memorial Meeting.

The phantom of an age 'twixt us and death?

The human heart would sink in despair, this earth of ours would become one vast haze-house, and we, poor pensioners on the bounty of an hour, a prey to the leprosy of time from whose withering talant there is no escape, would hopeless and rayless follow each other in solemn procession to the charnel chambers which await us, to become food for the worms, as dumb beasts to slaughter pens, but in an infinitely more pitiable plight, did not reason and revelation alike assure us

"This is the hnd of being, the dini dawn, The twilight of our day—the vestibule." They argue in vain, they contend against their own and our reason who try to convince us that what they call nature, but which we know is God, has denied to the soul of man the indestructibility with which it has clothed every particle of matter entering into the soul's temporary tabernacle.

Surely, whatever fools who mistake themselves for philosophers may tell us, the tenant is greater than the tenement, the diamond is more precious than its setting, mind is greater than matter.

"Dust thou art, to dust thou'rt, Was not spoken of the soul."

No, no; reason resents the assault made upon her, the affront which, they offer who ask us to believe that man's liberated spirit, when the temple which imprisoned it has fallen to ruin, "melts as a streak of morning cloud into the infinite azure of the past." It is not so; the heart of man no less emphatically than his reason proclaims the truth. Nature is not the void they would make her. Surely that omniscient providence which anticipated even our animal wants, which provided food to satisfy our hunger and drink to quench our thirst, has not decreed that the soul's homeless longing for immortality shall remain unsatisfied.

Man was not invested with reason that he might contemplate in disgust the miserable emptiness of his soul's divinely longed. He was not raised above the beasts of the field that he might in meditating upon his last end be more miserable than they. The mind was not created to evoke itself or to curse the power that devoured an existence which it was unable or unwilling to preserve. No; man was created to look heavenward, to read in the beauty and order of the universe the power and purposes of his Creator and his own immortal destiny. Thus do we find comfort in our greatest loss. Our departed friends, our loved ones have not left us for ever. We are but temporarily separated from them. We follow them in solid ranks and in rapid procession. They await our coming. Thus may we contemplate the death of our friend and profit by the contemplation. In this spirit should we stand by his tomb and drop a tear upon his grave.

Peace, eternal peace, to his noble soul.

LONG TRIP.

Edward J. O'Brien and Daughter to Visit European Capitals.

Edward J. O'Brien and his accomplished daughter, Miss Marie, sailed from New York on the steamer Baltic for Europe last Tuesday, and will visit all the points of interest on the continent before returning. They will spend some time in Ireland, going thence to Paris and later to Rome, where they will have audience with the Holy Father. Mr. O'Brien, who was a delegate to the international convention of the St. Vincent de Paul Society at the World's Fair, was selected to bear messages from that body to the Superior of that great Catholic charity society in Paris, and he will have the satisfaction of reporting Louisville as at the head of all the American cities in this noble work. They will be absent about three months, returning for the Christmas holidays. Their Kentucky friends wish them a safe and enjoyable voyage.

NITZKEN'S OPENING.

Henry Nitzken, for a number of years in business at Thirteenth and Grayson streets, opened his new exchange on Walnut street, above Thirteenth, last Monday night, and his friends, who are legion, assembled to give him a good send-off. The genial host had music and an excellent menu for all and treated them royally. Henry is one of the most popular men in the Tenth ward, and were he to enter politics the people would elect him to any office within their gift.

J. B. BURDISS.
New State Treasurer, Ancient Order of Hibernians.

THE BIG DAY.

Distinguished Clergy and Officials Honor the Sisters of Nazareth.

Nazareth day at the World's Fair was a brilliant success, more than 300 people attending the exercises held in the Kentucky building. Addresses were made by Archbishop Glennon, Rev. L. W. Mulbane, of Ohio, and Gov. Beckham. Besides the Mother Superior the Sisters present were Sisters Marie and Marietta from Nazareth and Sisters Virginia, Eutropea and Cicely from Louisville. Great praise is due Sister Marie, who had charge of the meeting and to whose untiring efforts and good management the success may be largely attributed. Among the Louisville ladies attending were Mesdames John S. Jackson, who was elected President of the alumnae; Emily G. Snowden, L. B. Mitchell, S. Helms, J. J. Gross and Katie Smith. Through the courtesy of the Louisville & Henderson route a special coach was provided for the return of the Sisters and their friends, whose comfort and welfare was looked after by Frank G. Cunningham, traveling passenger agent.

FALLS CITY HALL

Being Transformed Into One of the Finest Stores in Louisville.

The Falls City Hall building on West Market street is being rapidly transformed into the largest and handsomest store-house building in the city. The new store will be occupied by Joseph Hubbuch, Sr., the well known carpet and wall paper dealer, who expects to be ready for business at his new stand on Monday, October 17. In addition to an immense line of the latest designs in carpets and wall papers Mr. Hubbuch will carry a large and varied assortment of upholstery goods, tapestries, pictures, frames, moldings, etc. He will have associated with him his sons, who will have charge of departments. They are young men of splendid business ability and will add much to the popularity of the new house, which will greatly increase the volume of business and lead the way in that locality. A visit to the new store will be a pleasant surprise to any of our readers.

INVITATION

Extended Louisville Hibernians to Visit the Jeffersonville Division.

Although many members attended the horse show there was a good number present at the meeting of Division 3, A. O. H., Monday night. Thomas Grimes was reported on the sick list and quite an amount of routine business was transacted. The proceedings of the county convention were reported and Dr. William B. Doherty was elected Division physician. State President Keenan and the editor of the Kentucky Irish American were visitors. The former announced that the Jeffersonville division had sent him a letter, asking the Louisville members to visit that city and be their guests at a meeting to be held next month. He also read a commendation from National Secretary Carroll, which conveyed the news that encouraging reports were being received from all parts of the country and calling upon Kentucky to do her share.

National Director Butler and Patrick Sullivan congratulated the division on the selection of its young President, Tom Quinn, for the head of the order in Jefferson county, and a congratulatory letter was read from State Secretary Hunt, who says the Covington division has commenced preparations for the observance of St. Patrick's day. The Ladies' Auxiliary of that city also invite their Louisville friends to a dinner and reception to be held November 3.

WILL GO TO FAIR.

William M. Higgins and wife leave tonight to spend ten days at the World's Fair. This is the first vacation taken by the editor of the Kentucky Irish American since its foundation over seven years ago. Therefore our friends will favor us by sending their copy in early next week.

CHALLENGED.

Michael Reichert Ready to Meet Albert F. Martin in Debate.

Former Gives Reasons For His Position on the Rotating Question.

Would Hire Hall and Invite All Catholic Knights to Discussion.

APPEALS FOR LOYALTY TO ORDER

The new rating adopted for the Catholic Knights is still the foremost subject at branch meetings and is warmly debated. The proposition to appeal to the courts will not be concurred in, as many of the branches that have already voted oppose that course. Owing to the great local interest and feeling over the question much space has been given in these columns, with a view to preventing radical action and promoting harmony in the ranks—and giving both sides a fair hearing. For these reasons we give space to the following from Supreme Delegate Michael Reichert, which will probably end the newspaper discussion of the unpleasant subject:

To the Editor of The Kentucky Irish American: Would you kindly give a little space in your valuable paper to one who has labored and worked for twenty-five years in the interest and for the welfare of our noble old order, the Catholic Knights of America, which has paid over $12,000,000 to its widows and orphans? First, the writer desires to thank the Kentucky Irish American for having always and on all occasion given unlimited space to matters pertaining to and benefiting the order—a fact which defies any and all contradiction. As an old and careful reader of this worthy paper the writer is in a position to know and is sincere in this statement, and for that and other reasons deems it his duty to ask for a little space in answer to the article written for last week's issue by the Secretary of the Kentucky State Council, C. K. of A.

The brother starts his article by accusing the editor of being one-sided on some questions concerning the welfare of the order, etc. This criticism is unfair and an injustice to the paper and its editor. All the writer has ever read in the Kentucky Irish American on matters referred to were true facts, intelligently written up by the editor, who never misses an opportunity to get the true and honest facts, which he personally gathers up and publishes in a way to convince the readers of the noble work done by this society and urges them to join in its performance. Such articles can and must benefit the order. But can you, through an article like that of the brother referred to above, indorsing and encouraging legal proceeding, injunctions, remonstrances, etc., against the Supreme officers, accusing them of being guilty of throwing out the old man, depriving him of his insurance, throwing him overboard the sinking ship, etc.—can you, through an article like this, accomplish any good for the order? Is it right, or even good taste, for the brother to denounce the entire work of the Supreme Council, consisting of a body of intelligent, conscientious, Catholic men (including a number of priests), representing forty-two States—to declare their work an injustice to either the old or young? There careful and sincere deliberations lasted four days and part of the nights, the result of which was not only indorsed by his Grace Archbishop Glennon, Supreme Spiritual Director of the order, but the participants were heartily congratulated by him for placing the order on a basis that will enable it to make good and fulfill all its promises. "Make no promises," said Archbishop Glennon, "that can not be kept. Honesty is the first obligation of a society and its members, and no society can on an average pay more to a member than it has received."

Does the Secretary of the Kentucky State Council imagine that he is so well versed and that he knows so much better the needs of the order as to justify him to criticize and condemn the important work accomplished by these men? If so, he must have come to that conclusion since, and after the great meeting of the Catholic Knights at Cincinnati only a few months ago. That meeting was called for the purpose of hearing Bro. Kadaski explain his plan of rotating and to get views on the subject from other prominent Knights. Several of the Louisville Knights who had responded to the invitation were present and were asked to express their opinion, among them the brother now Secretary of the Kentucky State Council, who, like many others, appeared on the stage and endorsed all that his predecessors had said favoring Bro. Kadaski's plan, which is practically the same as the one adopted by the Supreme Council, adding that he hoped such plans would be put into operation by the Supreme Council.

In reference to the circular which was published in the Kentucky Irish American and copies mailed to all the branches in this State, Bro. Martin says that the writer of it himself admits that the new rating is wrong or an injustice to the old

BLACK LIST.

The daily press announces that the Executive Committee of the Employers' Association has adopted a plan which will enable employers to keep tab on workmen and will make them independent of the labor unions. Upon the surface the whole plan smacks of the black list. The committee is having printed slips which applicants for employment must sign, with the "understanding" that all who fill them out will be given the preference in the distribution of jobs. Read this list of questions and then ask yourself what they mean:

What is your name?
How old are you?
Where were you born?
Are you married or single?
Where do you live?
How long have you lived there?
Where did you work last?
What kind of work did you do?
Why did you leave?
What wages did you draw?
Do you belong to a labor union?
If so, what union?

The purpose is evidently to mark union men and pass their names from one employer to another for the purpose of depriving them of earning a livelihood. What is it the employer's business whether a man belongs to a trades union or not, so long as he is competent and earns the wages paid him? Will these same employers answer questions concerning their business if formulated and propounded to them by those out of work before they would accept employment? Not on your life. The workingman would be kicked out and told to chase himself.

This is but another attempt to destroy the trades unions and if it should prove successful will lead either to anarchy or a slavery worse than that existing before the civil war. The Employers' Association is but the union of a class, and its purpose seems to be the destruction of another class. This is bad policy and poor principle, and is bound to meet the fate of those unions which have pursued the same course.

If these employers are sincere in their protestations of interest in the welfare and success of the workers, why do they not meet them on an equal basis, discuss their differences in an open and honorable manner, hear both sides fully, and then reach an amicable agreement? This can be done with profit to both sides and will cement a feeling that neither anarchy nor socialism can destroy. Next to the church the trades union is the most potent safeguard against both.

PARDONS.

The act of Lieut. Gov. Thorne in granting a pardon to Clem Buchter, murderer of his own daughter, has aroused the people from one end of the State to the other as they have not been by any pardon ever granted. Buchter was a cruel and cold-blooded murderer, who had a most narrow escape from being hanged. This was all known to Lieut. Gov. Thorne, who can offer no valid or reasonable excuse for granting the pardon, and therefore he is now politically a "dead one." The good, honest, law-abiding people of Kentucky who honored and trusted William Thorne will have no more of him, but this does not remove the injustice done or the disgrace brought upon the State.

Since Buchter's release many suggestions have been offered to prevent the recurrence of such an outrage upon justice. The Evening Times of this city says the "simpler and more effective way to do away with the evil from which the State has suffered so frequently is offered by the passage of a law by the next session of the General Assembly compelling the Governor to file with the Secretary of State for open record a copy of every petition for pardon one month before the time at which final action on the application is to be taken."

The Times objects to the creation of a Board of Pardons such as exists in many States because of the expense that might follow, but suggests that "copies of application and petition should at the same time be furnished the Democratic and Republican daily newspaper having the largest representative circulation in the State and to the Democratic and Republican newspapers published in the county in which the conviction was made. In that way a check would be imposed on the reckless signature of names to any petition which is circulated and full opportunity would be given for a public discussion of the merits or demerits of the plea for relief. Under such a system it would be impossible for the actual or acting Executive to turn aside the course of justice by an arbitrary act and then, under the pretense of ignorance and plea for forgiveness, hope to escape the consequences of his action."

The foregoing sounds plausible and all right until we come to the distinction of papers. Why designate only papers that are known as Democrat or Republican? There are others besides these, just as good and with as many readers. To us it seems the Times' editor knew what he was after when he wrote "concerning pardons." The passage of such a statute would soon develop another "graft" for those party papers which now gobble up everything that comes down the "pipe." Under the pretext of doing good they would soon fasten another burden upon the taxpayers, who want only justice and the enforcement of the verdicts rendered in our courts.

Now that the Republicans have nominated a weak man, every good citizen should feel it his duty to roll up his sleeves and go earnestly to work to elect Judge Matt O'Doherty to preside over the Third division of the Circuit Court. When it comes to the election of Judges let us cast aside all other considerations and vote only for the man who is best qualified and will lend most dignity to the judicial ermine. Judge O'Doherty is the man.

The pro-Japanese newspapers are not chronicling many victories these days. Anything and everything that looked bad for the Russians was featured in glaring headlines, but when the Japs lost 10,000 men the smallest type was used. The tide is slowly turning and the final defeat of the yellow race seems now more certain than ever.

John Redmond and the members of the Irish Parliamentary party who accompanied him to this country sailed this week for home. They are well pleased with their reception and the result of their visit.

FOR BETTER OR WORSE.

In the marriage service the couple vow "For better or worse." Once a choice is made and the new home is established it is worse than folly to conclude that one might have done better. Sensible husbands and wives will make allowances for the discovery of points of disagreement in temperament and of human weakness in each other. They will be patient and tolerant. The blessing of God rests upon those who can bear and forbear. Besides the grace of the sacrament of matrimony will be present to give contentment and happiness.

SOCIETY.

Mrs. B. J. Campbell will leave tomorrow to visit the World's Fair.

Misses Agnes Ford and Anna Sheedy are in St. Louis visiting the fair.

Misses Lula and Mayme Crush, of the Highlands, are visiting the World's Fair.

Peter J. Cosgrove and his aged mother are spending two weeks at the World's Fair.

Janice Doyle and Joe Eirk will leave next week for a visit to the World's Fair.

John Monahan has gone to Washington to resume his studies at Georgetown College.

Misses Mary and Elizabeth Keyer have gone to St. Louis to visit friends and attend the fair.

Miss Dora Rothermel, of the East End, will return tomorrow from a week's stay at the World's Fair.

Mrs. Mamie Werst and daughter, Miss Julia, of Beechmont, have been spending the week in St. Louis.

Miss Florence Mitchell has returned from Owensboro, where she was the guest of Miss Anna Weil.

Edward Rowland and wife and E. S. Monahan and wife have been spending the week at the World's Fair.

Thomas Hallowan and Albert Marilla, well known East Enders, left Sunday for a three weeks' visit to St. Louis.

Misses Agnes Kanneppell and Lizzie Rapp, pretty New Albany girls, left the first of the week to visit the World's Fair.

Peter Sweeney and sons, Edward and Thomas, are here, owing to the illness of Mrs. Michael Pinegan, sister of the first named.

Leo Schuhmann and sisters, of Beechmont, have been visiting St. Louis and the World's Fair this week. They may arrive home this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Laffey, Mrs. T. Mahoney and Thomas Broderick are here from Nashville on account of the illness of Mrs. Michael Pinegan.

John O'Laughlin is receiving the congratulations of his fellow railroaders on account of the arrival of a little son at his residence, 1517 Dumesnil street.

Mrs. John C. Graves, of this city, and Miss Salie Hagan, of St. Mary's, returned Wednesday from a fifteen days' visit to relatives in St. Louis and the World's Fair.

Mrs. Josie Sheridan is expected to arrive today from Syracuse, to make this city her future home. For a time she will be with her sister, Mrs. William Osborne, at Oakdale.

Miss Anna McGuire left last week for Montgomery, Ala. She will be a maid of honor at the Kelly-Hollenkamp wedding next Wednesday, and will not return till late this month.

Peter Jennings and wife, the daughter of Mrs. Michael Pinegan, Ninth and Kentucky, arrived here the first of the week, to be at the bedside of the latter, who is critically ill at the family residence.

Miss Anna Raverty gave a delightful reception to a number of her friends at her home, 1019 Pearl street, New Albany. The parlors were tastefully decorated and she dispensed the honors in a charming manner.

Charles Ralby, the well known letter carrier, left Monday night to spend two weeks with relatives at St. Louis and visit the Fair. A letter says he thinks the Irish exhibit the greatest feature of the big show.

Conrad Broeker and Miss Emma Finger, popular young people of New Albany, were married Wednesday morning at St. Mary's church by Rev. Deau Fallier in the presence of many of their friends and relatives.

A bouncing baby boy has arrived at the home of Harry Thorpe, Twenty-fourth and Slevin streets, where he will remain as master of the household, and the proud father says he may conduct things in the future just to suit himself.

Miss Marcella Meagher, of 1441 Seventh street, returned Sunday from the Adirondack mountains, where she has been spending several months for the purpose of regaining her lost health. Miss Meagher recovered completely and is now as strong as ever.

Miss Rosa Plattner, of this city, and John Schumann, of Lafayette township, Ind., were united in marriage Tuesday morning with nuptial mass at St. Mary's of the Knobs, the Rev. Father Hildebrand officiating and pronouncing the words that made them one.

Michael J. Tierney, who has been spending two weeks here as the guest of his cousin, Miss Florence Clancy, and other relatives, will leave next week for his home at St. Paul, Minn. He expressed himself well pleased with Kentucky, and it may be that he will return to make Louisville his future home.

Mr. M. J. Walsh and his daughters, Alice and Mrs. Joseph DeCoursey, returned Sunday from the World's Fair. Mr. Walsh was a delegate to the St. Vincent de Paul convention which was held in St. Louis last week, while his daughters had been there for the past three weeks as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Martin.

Misses Mayme Meagher, Maggie Lucy, John J. Barry, Andrew J. Meagher and Walter S. Pritschner, of this city, and Miss Mattie Ryan and William J. Bounce, of Henderson, formed a jolly party who visited the World's Fair last week. They are all unanimous in telling their friends that the "Pike" is certainly the strenuous part of the fair.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized Tuesday morning at the Dominican church, when Miss Mamie Weikel became the bride of Otto Naville. Rev. Father Volz performed the ceremony. The attendants were Miss Nettie Schuhl and Al. Schandle. The happy couple are well known and popular in the community in which they live.

There was a happy gathering last Sunday afternoon at the home of Patrolman J. W. Sage, 1956 Portland avenue, to celebrate the christening of his baby boy, Edwin Thomas, who is now master of the household. Quite a number of friends of the family were entertained at a bounteous supper, charmingly presided over by the happy young mother.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Anna Hegenauer, the lovely daughter of John Hegenauer, and Dee O'Daniel, a prominent and influential resident of Gettysburg. The ceremony will be performed next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at St. Martin's church. The contracting parties are both popular and a large number of friends will be present to witness their union.

Invitations have been received here for the wedding of Miss Mayme Hollenkamp, formerly of this city and prominent in society circles, and Thomas J. Kelly, of Montgomery, Ala., which will be solemnized next Wednesday at St. Peter's church in Montgomery. While in Montgomery Miss Hollenkamp has made her home with her sister, Mrs. T. J. Corvelli. After the ceremony the happy couple will leave for an extended honeymoon trip, and will be at home at 305 Alabama street after October 24.

Herman Lee Obrecht and Miss Estelle Netherlands were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock by Rev. William Gausepohl at St. Mary Magdalen's at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. The wedding was a pretty but quiet one, and owing to a recent death in the groom's family no invitations were issued. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ella Netherlands and is a deservedly popular young woman. The groom is a successful young druggist, prominent in Catholic society circles. The best wishes of a legion of friends are tendered them for a long and happy life.

Invitations are out announcing the marriage of Miss Mamie O'Keefe and William T. Campbell, which will take place Wednesday, October 26, at St. Louis Bertrand's church. Miss O'Keefe is one of the most popular girls of the Dominican parish, being formerly a prominent member of the Aquinas Union, and is regarded highly by a host of friends for her sweet and amiable disposition. Mr. Campbell is a well known plasterer, who resides in the Highlands and is a general favorite among his acquaintances. The friends of the happy couple will be on hand at the ceremony to wish them God-speed on their matrimonial career.

One of the most notable of the fall weddings was that witnessed Wednesday afternoon at the Cathedral, when Rev. Father Schuhmann united for life Henry Reeb, the well known liquor dealer, and Miss Adelaide Montedonic, the lovely daughter of Tony Montedonic. Both are popular in Italian and German Catholic circles, and a large gathering of friends assembled to witness the ceremony. The ushers were Messrs. Joseph Bywater, Edward Montedonic, Tony Fontana and Tony Montedonic. After a reception and wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents the happy pair left for the East, where they will spend their honeymoon, returning the last of this month.

CATHOLIC FEDERATION.

The regular monthly meeting of the Catholic Federation will be held at Hibernian Hall next Thursday night. Henry Bosquet, Kentucky's delegate to the Catholic Central Verein national convention, has been invited to be present and will deliver an address. President Kelly wants all the delegates present to hear Mr. Bosquet, as he will have important information for the federation.

MASONIC.

"Flood Tide," a realistic drama setting forth some of the tragic incidents in the lives of the fisherfolk along the coast of Maine, comes to the Masonic Theater next week. It is said to be beautifully staged and to offer a succession of thrilling pictures.

MACAULEY'S.

Rya Tanguay, a charming comedienne, comes to Macauley's for the first half of next week, presenting the "Sambo Girl," a delightful musical comedy, for which she is said to be especially well fitted. For the latter half the "Sultan of Sulu" is scheduled. This is said to be George Ade's best production. Both will be presented by strong companies.

BUCKINGHAM.

Lovers of sumptuous scenery and magnificent electrical effects will see a display next week at the Buckingham Theater surpassing anything heretofore undertaken at this popular playhouse. The attraction will be Manchester's famous "Cracker Jacks," presenting unusual specialties and two beautiful burlesques, making one of the best bills that will be seen there this season.

HOPKINS' THEATER.

Next week's bill at Hopkins' Theater includes Lotta Gladstone with her burlesque interpretation of the country girl. The Columbians will present "The Wax Doll." There are five members in the company, and they give a pleasing performance. Hopkins is steadily growing in popularity, as all the performances given are high class. The management also sees that every courtesy is shown its patrons. Gardner and Vincent head the bill with their "Summer Idyl."

CHALLENGED.

man. If Bro. Martin will kindly read that circular through again and add a little thinking he will find that he is mistaken. He refers to that part of the circular that reads as follows: "Rather than place the order under a court's jurisdiction, let our Supreme delegates endeavor to have the rates reduced for the old man at the Supreme Council next May, by which time we can judge better as to their practical operation." How can this be construed that the circular writer has admitted that the new rates are wrong, when he merely expresses his willingness to leave it to the Supreme Council and abide by its decision, whatever it may be, ready to roll up his sleeves and work in accordance with the laws they may see necessary or fit to enact. Loyalty to his order and its Supreme officers demands this of him and of any and all members.

The writer disapproves of discussions of this nature being settled through the newspapers, and therefore prefers not to answer all the details of the article written by Bro. Martin, for such discussion can only prove injurious to our beloved order instead of bringing good results. Father Blake, of Portland, Ore., at the extra Supreme Council said when that body was about to adjourn: "Now, brothers, as all is done and all is done well, let us clasp hands and try to enlist and maintain harmony and good fellowship, and above all let us abandon forever the rereading and danger line discussions in the Journal and other papers, and new life and prosperity will be the future of the Catholic Knights." The writer agrees with the Rev. Father Blake. Let us keep before the readers of the papers only such matters as will benefit the order and its members.

But as the existing discord and dissatisfaction must be mostly attributed to misunderstanding, the writer is willing and ready to make explanations that will convince many brothers. He feels confident that he can do it, as he has already convinced some of the most radical opponents. Give him a fair chance. He is ready and willing to enter into an open debate with his old friend, Bro. Martin. Let us engage a suitable hall and invite all the members in the city and vicinity as an audience, the discussion to consist of five or ten-minute talks alternately, before about six judges, consisting of disinterested business men, either with or without the use of a blackboard. In case Bro. Martin prefers that some other lay member of the order should take up this contest, I will not object, but would ask him to name three members of the ranks in this city, the writer reserving the right to reject two of the three so named. Each side will select three of the six judges.

The question of fine oratory is not to be considered, but the decision of the judges will be based on true and convincing facts brought out by plain and to the point talks on the following subjects: Are the new rates adequate and will they guard against future difficulties and retarding? Are the options offered the older members such as will assure their continued membership with reasonable rates for future insurance?

The writer, who is sincere and has the welfare of the organization at heart, earnestly hopes that his proposition will be accepted, thus giving him an opportunity to convince many of the old members (to which class he himself belongs) that there are two courses to pursue. One is to follow the enemies of the order into the courts and from thence to the destruction of that noble old institution that has done so much good in providing for so many widows and orphans. The other course is to thank Almighty God for prolonging our lives, giving us the opportunity to do so much charity for those in need and distress, and let us not expect to take back our reward in hard cash or other worldly things. Let us not ask the young man, with perhaps half a dozen little dependents, to come into our order and pay our deficiency, our future insurance, for the benefit of our grown sons and daughters. Remember that all the surplus money, all we have ever paid into the order over and above the actual cost of our insurance, has gone into the grave with our beloved brothers whom our Creator saw fit to summon to his reward, or rather to his poor wife and children when they were little. Don't begrudge these poor orphans the help you rendered in supporting, clothing and educating them. Remember they had to sacrifice a parent, while you have been spared to a ripe old age. Now, like a grateful Christian, come forward and say, "I thank thee, oh, Lord, and will gladly sacrifice a part of my life insurance as a token of appreciation and thanks and for the sake of the many little dependents who may still look toward us for protection, while my sons and daughters are able to take care of themselves and would not ask the other young man with a large family to pay for them as the direct beneficiaries of their parent."

These are a few of the many good resolutions open for every loyal and unselfish Knight to adopt, thus enabling the order to regain its confidence and its original and prosperous course. Let us be men, Christians, loyal to our duty and men of reason. A frank and fair question, brother: Which course do you prefer to follow? Be fair and reason with one who is sincere and honest on the question confronting us. Fraternally, M. REICHERT.

NEW OFFICERS.

The Roman Knights of St. Edward, composed of members of St. Anthony's congregation, elected the following officers at their meeting Monday evening: Thomas Graf, President; L. W. Borntraeger, Vice President; John Holsapp, Secretary; J. J. Schulten, Treasurer; L. Wernert, W. Drees, J. Ramstein, Finance Committee; W. Drees, Captain; J. R. Fox, First Lieutenant; A. J. Weger, Second Lieutenant. Addresses on Catholic Federation were made by Dr. P. S. Clark and A. J. Sheridan, who visited the branch as a committee from the local federation. Joseph Blocker and D. P. Fox were appointed as a committee of investigation to visit the next regular meeting of the federation and then make a report to the branch as to the advisability of enrolling the branch membership.

COL. MIKE MULDOON

Presents Costly Statue to Sisters of Mercy For New Chapel.

Col. Mike Muldoon this week received from Carrara, Italy, a handsome and costly marble statue of Our Lady of Lourdes, which he has generously presented to the Sisters of Mercy for their new chapel to be erected at St. Catherine's Convent on Broadway. The Sisters have a fine building and academy there, but have been lacking adequate space for the chapel. They have therefore concluded to obviate this by the erection of an addition and will appeal to their friends for assistance. In the chapel will be a beautiful grotto in honor of Our Lady of Lourdes, and therein the statue will be placed. The statue is life-size and carved from pure Carrara marble. These good Sisters have little money and any assistance rendered them by a generous public will be highly appreciated. The statue is now on exhibition in Col. Muldoon's warerooms, adjoining the Kentucky Irish American office.

WORDS THAT CHEER.

The Kentucky Irish American receives many commendatory letters, but it is such as the one subjoined that gives its publishers the most encouragement: Editor Kentucky Irish American:

Enclosed please find a dollar for my subscription to the Kentucky Irish American. I certainly would not be without the paper as long as I can raise the price of it, for it is the brightest, newest and best weekly in Louisville. When one wants news of their friends and religious doings in the city you can find it in your paper as nowhere else. Your splendid accounts of the lawsuits against the Sisters of the Good Shepherd and the publication of James J. Fitzgerald's speech surely won the paper innumerable friends and admirers and I hope subscribers. With delightful recollections of our trip to the Newport convention, I am, yours very sincerely,

L. A. F.

INTO COZY HOME.

It was truly a happy gathering of friends who assembled at the residence of John B. Ratterman and his amiable wife to celebrate their moving into their beautiful and cozy new home at 2111 West Market street. Mr. Ratterman is the well known young undertaker, and both he and his wife, who was Miss Ackermann, have a wide circle of friends, who called and gave them a genuinely happy house warming.

FIRST SELECT DANCE.

The Emerald Club, a new social organization composed of popular young society girls, has issued invitations for its first select dance, to be given at Ostrader's Hall on Monday, October 24. The committee having the affair in charge is composed of Misses Julia Kelly, Ella O'Connell, Mayme Keenan, Virginia Barrett, Nora Fitzgerald and Ella Fitzgerald. A pleasant evening is assured all who attend.

RIDDLES.

What tune makes every one glad? Fortune.
What is the superlative of temper? Temper.
What color should a secret be kept? Inviolable.
What nation does a criminal dread? Condemnation.
What is there you can not take with a kodak? A hint.
What is a waste of time? The middle of an hour-glass.
What animals, when beheaded, become very cold? Mice.
What animals are generally brought to a funeral? Black kids.
When does bread resemble the sun? When it rises from the yeast.
What is it which works when it plays and plays when it works? A fountain.
Of what trade are all the Presidents of the United States? Cabinet makers.
Why is the Fourth of July like an oyster? Because you can't enjoy it without crackers.
Two ducks before a duck and two ducks behind a duck and a duck in the middle. How many ducks in all? Three.
Why does a cat look first on one side and then on the other when she comes into a room? Because she can't look both ways at once.

CARE OF CARPETS.

The right way to treat a good carpet is to lay it carefully on a soft bedding of thick layers of newspapers or of brown paper. The printers' ink on newspaper is disliked by the clothes moth, which will avoid carpets with such linings as a place unsuitable for the laying of its eggs. Thus thick folds of newspaper laid evenly will not only provide a means for using up old papers, give a thick underfooting for the floor, but relieve the housewife of one source of worry—moths in her best carpet. The paper should be renewed each time the carpet is taken up. It is best to have the carpet cleaned and relaid by professional cleaners from any furniture shop yearly, as this plan, which is cheap enough, prevents much staining and havoc made with the carpet in taking up, beating, cleaning and putting down again.

NEW A GOOD THING.

A gentleman having a pony that started and broke his wife's neck, a neighbor told him that he wished to purchase it for his wife to ride upon.
"No," says the other, "I will never sell the little fellow, because I intend to marry again."

To be polite to one we dislike is not necessarily being insincere. Politeness is not so much a manifestation toward others as an indication of what we are ourselves. We owe it to ourselves to be well behaved.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Miss Carrie Smith, who died Thursday evening at the home of her parents, 733 Sixth street, will take place this morning from the Cathedral at 9 o'clock. She was in her nineteenth year and her death has cast a deep gloom over all her friends.

Mrs. Anna Welsh, wife of the late Martin Welsh, and for many years a devout member of St. John's church, passed to her eternal reward Tuesday morning. Her funeral took place yesterday morning and was attended by a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives.

Thomas Graney, who left Louisville a number of years ago to accept a position at Clinton, met with an accident last week that proved fatal. The news of his death came as a shock to his numerous friends in this city. His remains arrived here Tuesday, and the funeral took place Wednesday morning from St. Patrick's church.

The funeral of Mrs. Kate Brison occurred Thursday morning from St. Charles' church, Rev. Father Raffo being the celebrant of the solemn mass of requiem. She was the wife of William Brison, 2633 Grayson street, and was possessed of those traits of character that mark the true Christian woman. The news of her death Tuesday evening was a shock to her friends here and in Chicago and Alexandria, Ind., where she was well known.

The news of the death of Miles Hagan, the well known and successful young druggist, at El Paso, Texas, came as a shock to his friends and relatives in this city. Because of poor health he left with his wife some two months ago for the Lone Star State, and letters from him were most encouraging. For some time he gained steadily, but a sudden and unexpected change came and he passed away before any one here knew his serious condition. The remains arrived here Thursday morning and were taken to the home of the bereaved wife's father, Michael Norton, West Jefferson street, and on Friday morning the funeral services were held at St. Patrick's church, where requiem high mass was said for the repose of his soul.

HAVE NO HOPE.

The numerous friends throughout the city will learn with keen regret that hope for the recovery of Mrs. Michael Pinegan, of Ninth and Kentucky, has been abandoned, and when this reaches them she may have passed away. This good lady has borne intense suffering for a long time with that resignation that characterizes only the good Christian. For several days past all the members of her family and relatives from a distance have been at her bedside.

WINTER SERIES.

The popular Nonpareil Dancing Club will inaugurate its fall and winter series of dances at the New Athletic Club on Wednesday night, October 27. It is the intention to make this opening dance a very grand affair and one to be remembered as the greatest ever given by the Nonpareils. There will be six dances during the season and all of the holiday nights have been secured for them. One special feature will be an afternoon dance on New Year's day.

RE-ELECTED.

Friends of Eugene J. Cooney are congratulating him upon his re-election as Secretary-Treasurer of the Produce Shippers' Dispatch. The meeting was held Tuesday in the home office in the Columbia building. The company was organized here five years ago, and Mr. Cooney has held the position during all that time.

MONTHLY BANQUET.

President Thomas Walsh has issued the call for the monthly meeting and banquet of the Catholic Club, composed of a large number of our representative Catholic citizens. The meeting will be held in the parlors of the Catholic Woman's Club, where the banquet will also be served.

JOE'S NEW EXCHANGE.

Joseph P. McCarthy has opened an exchange in connection with his grocery at Eighth and St. Catherine streets. Mr. McCarthy will keep open house this evening and has issued invitations to his friends to be on hand and partake of the special lunch he has prepared.

LAST OF THE SEASON.

Indiansnap and return, $1.50, "Big Four Route," Sunday, October 8, Special train leaves Seventh Street Union depot at 7 o'clock a. m. Get tickets at city ticket office, 259 Fourth avenue, and at depot. S. J. Gates, General Agent.

FOR COLUMBUS DAY.

Many Louisville Knights Will Make Pilgrimage to St. Louis.

Next Wednesday will be Knights of Columbus day at the World's Fair, and the Louisville council has made special arrangements for the attendance of a large number of its members. The exercises will be elaborate and will be participated in by Archbishop Glennon and many distinguished clergymen, Grand Knight Hearn and men prominent in the Knights of Columbus in all parts of the country.

Upon the return trip Louisville Council will be accompanied by Mt. Pleasant Council of Boston, and the party, numbering twenty-five, will be entertained here for one day, October 13. All the large cities will be represented, and it is the hope of the St. Louis Knights to make the day one of the largest in the history of the fair.

SELECT DANCE.

The Millionaire Club, a West End social organization, will inaugurate its winter series of select dances Monday evening at their new hall, 1801 West Market street, and continue them until next April. These will be private dances, and only those possessing invitations will be admitted. The members are well known in society circles and the series given last year were very enjoyable.

PROMOTED.

The many friends of Theodore C. Laughlin, for many years a well known resident of New Albany and one of the most popular conductors on the Southern railroad, were much gratified when they learned that he had been appointed to the position of Assistant Trainmaster. He will have charge of that part of the Louisville & St. Louis division east of Princeton, and assumed his new position October 1.

CAMPAIGNING.

Hon. Edward J. McDermott and James J. Fitzgerald are doing effective work for the Democratic party. They opened the campaign at Owensboro on Monday night, and also at Seymour, Ind., on Wednesday night, where they were greeted with an immense throng of people. They are orators of national fame, and there will be a great demand for their services.

MISSION AT ST. JOHN'S.

Beginning at the high mass tomorrow morning at St. John's the Jesuit fathers will begin a mission lasting two weeks. The services will be at the usual hours and the fathers will preach twice each day.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Salt and lemon will remove rust.
Ammonia will remove white stains from furniture.
Flintstones rubbed on fine salt will become smooth.
A thick paste of molasses and flour will relieve burn.
Bedbugs may be gotten rid of by the free use of alcohol.
One of the first duties of a guest is punctuality in everything.
When washing cut glass do not allow it to touch the bottom of the pan.
The spoon or fork for dessert should be sent to the table with the dessert plate.
Fresh butter unsalted, if eaten freely, will cure a child of summer complaint.
A pinch of salt added to the whites of eggs will make them whip more easily.
A pinch of salt thrown into the coffee pot will improve the aroma of the coffee.
Bouillon may be slipped from the cup, but this is not permissible with a thick soup.
The knife should be held perpendicularly when cutting warm cake or corn bread.
A piece of flannel, dampened in camphor, is nice with which to polish mirrors.
Hot milk added to potatoes when washing them will keep them from being soggy or heavy.
Brooms with bamboo handles are best for all but heavy sweeping, as they are easier to handle.
Always shake out garments before putting them into the blueing water so they will take the color evenly.
Cheese may be kept moist by wrapping in cloth wrung out of vinegar and hung up in a paper bag in a cool place.
Celery should lie at least an hour in cold water or upon ice before being served, in order to be firm and crisp.
Wash fabrics may be set in color if given a thorough rinsing in a salt and water solution before being put into the regular wash.
Equal parts of cold, cooked rice and canned salmon makes a good salad mixture. Serve on lettuce leaves with French dressing.
Add a teaspoonful of salt and one of sugar to the water in which peas are cooked. When done the peas will have little dents in them.
Mildew stains may be removed from articles by soaking in a solution of four quarts of cold water and one tablespoonful of chloride of lime. Wash well in clear water afterward and hang in sun to dry.

CONNUBIAL BLISS.

Husband—If I were to lose you I would never see such a fool as to marry again.
Wife—If I were to lose you I would marry again directly.
Husband—Then my death would be regretted by at least one person.
Wife—By whom?
Husband—My successor.

WILL GIVE SERIES.

First Euchre of the L. A. of A.
O. H. Encourages Them to Give a Series.

The euchres given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians Wednesday afternoon and evening at Hibernian Hall proved such success that the ladies are planning to give a series.
A great deal of praise is due Mrs. David Welsh for her successful management, every one being pleased with the arrangements. She was assisted by Misses Mary Cavanaugh, Ella O'Connell, Virginia Barrett, Mary Corcoran, Mrs. David O'Connell, Mrs. Margaret Foley and Mrs. L. J.
Mackey.

The prizes in the afternoon were won by Misses Mamie Keenan, Katie Ambrose, Mollie Quill, Katie Smith, Julia Kelly,
Virginia Barrett, Mary Wolfe, Mrs. King,
Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Manley and John Reed. In the evening the successful contestants were Miss Mamie O'Brien, Mrs. H. W. Edlman, Mrs. M. Corso, Mrs. M. Ryan, Mrs. T. L. Woods and Mesars. W. H. Rihn, Frank App, John Lambert, Frank Klein and James Broderick. At the next meeting of the auxiliary, October 19, plans for giving a series will be discussed.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Changes the Dates For its Three Days' Bazar in November.

Mackin Council held a well attended and interesting meeting Tuesday night, with President Shelley presiding. The application of Carl Pfeiffer was received and the Visiting Committee reported the sick list clear. The Ways and Means Committee, arranging for the bazar to be given next month, recommended that the dates be changed to November 17, 18 and 19. It was thought this would give better opportunity for the friends of the council to attend and also to perfect the arrangements, therefore the change was made by unanimous vote. The prizes to be distributed among purchasers of tickets will be the most costly ever offered, and will include sets of furniture, suits of clothes for ladies and gentlemen, sets of furs, loads of coal, etc. Already enough interest has been taken to make certain the success of the undertaking, the first of its kind ever given by any of our Catholic societies.

WILL REAGAN DEAD.

The death of Will Reagan, only son of Pat Reagan, President of the Citizens' Ice Company, last Saturday evening at the family residence, 2215 High avenue, removes from the West End another of its promising young men. For several years young Reagan held a position with the Government at San Francisco, where he contracted the illness that resulted in his death. Two months ago he came home, and despite all that love and skill could do he passed peacefully away, fortified by the last sacraments and surrounded by sorrowing relatives. The funeral was largely attended Tuesday morning at the Church of Our Lady, where Rev. Father Conniff celebrated a solemn high mass of requiem for the repose of his soul and preached a feeling sermon upon life and death that left its impression on all present.

FATHER BRADY HOME.

Rev. Father Brady, of St. Cecilia's church, who has been absent from the city for some time past, has returned home looking the picture of good health.
The members of his congregation are rejoiced to have him with them again.
Fathers Brady and Kalsher are engaged in God's work, and it is their earnest hope to soon be able to begin the erection of a large and beautiful church for their people.

NEW MANAGER.

Mrs. James P. Glenn, widow of the late James P. Glenn, has engaged Ernest Simpson as manager of the exchange which was conducted by her husband, and known as Glenn's Base Ball Exchange. Mr. Simpson is a popular and capable young man, and will no doubt be a success in his new position.

WRONG IMPRESSION.

No Truth in the Rumor of Enormous Charges at the World's Fair.

A great many people have been deterred from visiting the World's Fair, being under the impression that you literally have to burn up money to see the fair properly. There is no foundation for this whatever, as the cost of board and lodging is normal, and your expenses at the fair grounds will simply be what you wish to make them yourself. Of course there is no admission fee to the exposition buildings, and in regard to the Pike there are only several shows worth seeing, among them being Hale's fire fighters, Galveston flood,
Battle Abbey, trip to the North Pole, Creation and the Boer war. In addition a person might take a trip on the Ferris wheel and the scenic railway.

The fair is certainly a world's fair, and deserves a visit from every man or woman, boy or girl who can possibly do so. It is a practical study of the world's progress in art, science, education and manufacture, and will prove beneficial in some way to every visitor. The Kentucky building is a source of pride to any visiting Kentuckian, as it has proven the most popular State building on the grounds, every comfort and attention being shown all visitors. A great deal of the success of this building is due to the successful supervision of Mr. R. E.
Hughes, who has shown himself to be very capable for his post in upholding the reputation of Kentucky for hospitality.

TRINITY COUNCIL.

Literary and Musical Entertainment Announced For November.

As usual the meeting of Trinity Council, Y. M. I., on Monday evening was well attended, when by unanimous vote Frank T. Caummissar was elected a member. An invitation to the marriage of M. F. Morris was received and accepted and the congratulations of the council extended. The Entertainment Committee reported that they would give a free literary and musical entertainment in November, for which the best talent in the city has been secured. The committee intends making this the best and most artistic entertainment yet given in Louisville under Y. M. I. auspices.

CHESTERFIELD MINSTRELS.

The Chesterfield Club will give a minstrel and vaudeville entertainment at Trinity Council Hall on Tuesday, October 26. This is the third minstrel performance given by this club and promises to exceed their former efforts. The end men will be Messrs. John Flynn, F.
Pilson, C. J. Desse and Lawrence Worland, while Richard A. Hill will act as interlocutor. The sentimental songs will be sung by William Gayhaefter and Leo Worland. The first part will be followed by the usual olio, Parnell Barrett, and Jerome Driscoll appearing in an Irish skit which will be sure to bring down the house. Messrs. Flynn and Desse will also appear in a nigger sketch entitled "Oats In." F. Pilson will appear in a monologue, while the performance will conclude with a farce entitled "A Gold Brick," which will be sure to make you forget all your troubles.

SECOND STROKE.

Mrs. Thomas Monahan, a well known resident of New Albany, was last week stricken with paralysis for the second time and now lies in a serious condition at her home, 723 Shelby street. The first attack occurred just one year ago.
Her husband, Thomas Monahan, an old and respected citizen, died last month.

BENEFIT EUCHE.

A benefit euchre will be given at St.
Joseph's Hall, Washington street, near Adams, next Thursday night, to raise funds for furnishing the club rooms on Adams street. Twelve handsome prizes will be awarded, and after the euchre a splendid musical entertainment will be given free of charge. The games will begin at 8:30.
